

UL FOOTBALL HISTORY

The Story Behind the Nickname

Referred to as the Ragin' Cajuns, the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has perhaps the most unique and fitting nickname in all of collegiate athletics.

In 1921, the University adopted the nickname and mascot Bulldogs. Beginning in 1963, Louisiana-Lafayette football teams were dubbed the "Raging Cajuns" by then-Sports Information Director Bob Henderson and head football coach Russ Faulkinberry. In addition, the team switched from gold helmets to white helmets with an Acadian flag. At the time, more than 90 percent of Faulkinberry's teams were composed of Louisiana high school players, many with French-speaking Acadian backgrounds.

The nickname stuck, and in 1967 the second 'g' was dropped to make Ragin'. In the early 70's other sports teams began to adopt the Ragin' Cajuns nickname. The University's full switch to Ragin' Cajuns was part of "Operation Turnaround" during the 1974-75 school year.

In fact, the Ragin' Cajuns were voted as the best collegiate team nickname by Sporting News in 1998 and by an ESPN SportsNation survey in 2006.

The College Football Hall of Fame

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette boasts two former players in the College Football Hall of Fame, located in South Bend, Indiana.

Former halfback/defensive back Christian "Keener" Cagle from DeRidder, La., and offensive guard/linebacker Weldon Humble from Nixon, Texas, are both enshrined.

Cagle lettered for then-SLII from 1922-25 and was a member of the Cajuns' 9-2 team in 1925. He later went on to win the precursor of the Heisman Trophy. Humble played for the Cajuns in 1943 during Louisiana's run for the Oil Bowl championship.

University History

1898: Louisiana lawmakers approved the creation of an "Industrial Institute and academy" in the 13th Senatorial District.

1900: Dr. Edwin L. Stephens was named the first president of SLII, the Southwestern Louisiana Industrial Institute, which was to be located on the outskirts of Lafayette on 25 acres of donated land. SLII opened its doors on Sept. 18, 1901, with 100 students and eight faculty members.

1903: Eighteen students were the first to graduate from SLII.

1921: SLII became Southwestern Louisiana Institute (SLI) when it was designated as one of the state's institutions of higher learning. The year before, it had begun offering a four-year course that culminated with a bachelor's of arts degree.

1960: SLI became the University of Southwestern Louisiana (USL) when it achieved university status.

1999: USL was renamed the University of Louisiana at Lafayette (UL). The new name better reflects its status as the state's second-largest university and an institution with statewide and national - rather than regional - influence.

Conference History

Louisiana will compete in its seventh season of Sun Belt Conference football in 2007. The winner of the Sun Belt Conference earns a berth in the New Orleans Bowl at the Louisiana Superdome on Friday, December 21 to be televised live nationally on ESPN2 at 7 p.m.

The Cajuns compete with full-time Sun Belt members Arkansas State, FAU, FIU, Louisiana-Monroe, Middle Tennessee, North Texas and Troy. Other non-football members of the Sun Belt include: Arkansas-Little Rock, Denver, New Orleans, South Alabama and Western Kentucky.

From 1993-95, the Cajuns played in the Big West Conference. During that time, UL collected back-to-back championships in 1993 and 1994.

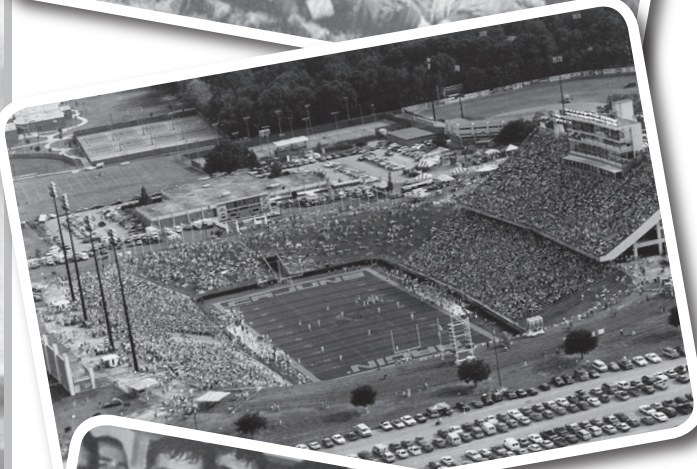

UL had its first official conference membership when it joined other state schools as well as schools from Mississippi and Alabama in the Gulf States Athletic Conference for the 1948-49 athletic season.

That league went through several changes in membership and eventually became an all-Louisiana league, but the Cajuns remained a member until the 1970-71 season, making it the school's longest affiliation with any conference.

UL joined the Southland Conference in June 1971. The Southland, which had been founded during the 1960s, was comprised of schools from Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas. It was during that stint, that the Cajuns' athletic program moved from the college division to the university division of the NCAA.

Louisiana remained a member of the Southland Conference until 1982. In that year, the Southland Conference was reclassified into Division I-AA, at which time the Cajuns left the league to retain its Division I-A status in football.

Louisiana has never been a member of the NCAA's Division I-AA.

Dark Leads "Louisiana's Best Team" to Victory

What many consider to be "The Best Team in Louisiana History", Louisiana-Lafayette (then known as Southwestern Louisiana Institute) defeated Arkansas A&M (the present-day University of Arkansas at Monticello) 24-7 to claim the 1944 Oil Bowl Championship.

The New Year's Day rematch was played under the same rainy, muddy and foggy conditions as the earlier meeting between the two teams on Nov. 6 in Memphis, Tenn. That game ended in a 20-20 tie.

The Cajuns versatile backs and strong offensive line was no match for the Aggies. "I say that no team, and I put the emphasis on Notre Dame, could have beaten us that day," said Louisiana-Lafayette head coach Louis Whitman.

Louisiana-Lafayette was led by quarterback Alvin Dark, who either scored or set-up each of the Cajuns tallies.

The Cajuns struck in the first quarter when Dark returned an Aggies punt 24 yards down to the AAM 21 yard-line. Following an offsides penalty and a first down run Dark, Dark split the uprights from 16 yards to give the Cajuns a 3-0 lead.

Louisiana-Lafayette upped their lead to 10-0 just two possessions later. Moe Richmond made a sensational leaping catch between two defenders for a 12-yard score from Dark.

Arkansas A&M moved down to the Cajuns 19 on the next possession, but came away empty handed. AAM's quarterback needed just two completions to move the Aggies 51 yards, but then threw three consecutive incompletions to turn the ball back over to Louisiana-Lafayette.

The Aggies scored on their first possession of the second half to cut the Cajuns lead to 10-7. A running into the kicker penalty on the Cajuns helped extend the AAM 64-yard drive that ended in a 27 yard touchdown pass from Gray to Bill Coomer.

Dark pinned the Aggies deep in their own territory with a 48-yard punt and then returned the ensuing AAM kick 15-yards to Cajuns 33 yard-line. Back-to-back first down runs by Bob Pillow and Dark set-up a seven-yard touchdown plunge by Pillow to give the Cajuns back their 10-point cushion.

Another excellent punt by Dark led to a short field for the Cajuns offense and another touchdown. Runs by Dark and Vincent Buckley set-up a 10-yard touchdown run by Dark to complete the scoring.

Scoring Summary

Louisiana-Lafayette	3	7	7	7	24
Arkansas A&M	0	0	7	0	7

Cajuns Fall Victim to Turnovers, 26-25

Tennessee State scored two touchdowns in 1:28 to take a 14-0 lead after one quarter.

Louisiana-Lafayette responded with two touchdowns in the second quarter. Nelson Schexnayder hauled in a seven-yard touchdown pass from George Coussan, but Roy Pendergraft's extra point was blocked. A scoreless third quarter led to a frenzy of activity in the fourth stanza.

Schexnayder caught his second touchdown of the game on a 17-yard toss from Coussan with 8:57 remaining in the game. Pendergraft's extra point gave the Cajuns a 19-14 lead.

The ensuing kickoff was fumbled by J. Thaxton into the end zone where Mike Courville recovered for a Cajuns touchdown. Pendergraft's extra point was blocked again, giving Louisiana-Lafayette a 25-14 lead.

TSU traveled 55 yards on seven plays in 2:45 culminating in a three-yard touchdown scramble by Joe Gilliam. Albert Davis was cut down on the try for two, keeping the score 25-20 in favor of the Cajuns.

Coussan's seventh interception of the game led to a short touchdown run by Davis with 3:22 remaining in the game.
