

BUSTLE'S DISCIPLINE

Since 2002, Rickey Bustle's squads have been flagged for the fewest penalties in the Sun Belt Conference. Not only do the Cajuns lead the league in the fewest penalties, UL also leads with a league-low 6.14 penalties per game. The Troy Trojans are the only other Sun Belt school averaging fewer than seven penalties per game (6.20).

In 2004, Louisiana-Lafayette was flagged for only 61 penalties - the lowest total for the Cajuns since 1990. UL also has the lowest penalty total in the last three seasons.

HEAD COACH RICKEY BUSTLE

Louisiana-Lafayette head coach Rickey Bustle enters his sixth season in Cajun Country in 2007. Bustle saw his winning percentage increase each of the first five seasons since taking the job in 2002, but regressed to .500 in 2006. His 6-6 record last season was only deemed a regression because of the high standards and raised levels of expectations by the Cajuns and their fans. In fact, Bustle's 12 wins over the past two seasons are the most in a two-year period since 1994-95.

Louisiana went 3-3 at home in 2006, marking the fifth straight season - all under Bustle - that the Cajuns have been .500 or better at home. Bustle boasts a 15-12 (.556) record at Cajun Field. By comparison, the Cajuns were 6-19 (.240) at home in the five years preceding Bustle.

In addition to raised expectations, Bustle has brought professionalism and discipline to the program. Since 2002, the Cajuns 356 penalties are the fewest in the Sun Belt and UL boasts the fewest penalties per game over that span.

The Cajuns went 6-5 (.546) in 2005 to mark UL's first winning record since 1995. Bustle's squad went 4-7 (.364) in 2004, 4-8 (.333) in 2003 and 3-9 (.250) in 2002.

Along with a winning season in 2005 came a share of the Sun Belt Conference championship. After starting 1-5 (0-2), UL roared back into the SBC race with a come-from-behind road win at Middle Tennessee. From there came a homecoming win over Troy in overtime and a second comeback road win, this time at North Texas.

Then, a Senior Day victory over FIU set-up the season finale at Louisiana-Monroe. The Cajuns rocked the Indians 54-21, claiming the first school title since the 1994 Big West crown.

Bustle was rewarded with a two-year contract extension following the 2005 campaign, which lengthens his contract through 2010.

Attendance has also been on the rise, as the Cajuns began 2003 with an attendance of 24,211 vs. Louisiana Tech, one of the twenty best in the history of Cajun Field, and largest crowd in seven seasons. Then, in 2004, UL saw a crowd of 25,083 for the Sun Belt opener vs. Middle Tennessee and a five-game total of 107,006, the most since 1996 and the eighth best average (21,401) in Cajun Field history. In 2005, UL played before a homecoming crowd of 21,204 en route to a solid two-season average of 19,496 - the best two year average at Cajun Field since 1992-93. Last season, the Cajuns homecoming crowd increased to 22,093, marking the third straight season with 20,000+ fans for homecoming.

During his tenure at UL, nine of Bustle's players have either been drafted or signed NFL contracts, including Charles Tillman and Ike Taylor. Both were selected in the 2003 NFL Draft and both have played in the Super Bowl. Taylor signed a five-year, $22.5 million contract extension in Sept. 2006 that included a $6.4 million signing bonus.

The Summerville, S.C., native, became the 24th head coach in Louisiana's Ragin' Cajuns football history on December 13, 2001.

Bustle earned his first collegiate victory as a head coach on Sept. 21, 2002 with a 34-0 victory over UAB. Louisiana-Lafayette held the Blazers to just eight first downs and only 94 yards passing.

In 2002, Bustle helped the Cajuns to their first winning record at Cajun Field in six seasons with impressive back-to-back victories over Sun Belt foes Idaho and Arkansas State.

In 2003, UL won four of their last five games en route to a second place finish in the Sun Belt.

More importantly, Bustle's popularity across Acadiana had a significant impact in the stands. As a result, the Cajuns' season ticket base rose by substantial amounts.

* National Championship Game

Bustle has also been instrumental in developing his women's clinic held annually in the spring, attracting hundreds of enthusiastic females eager for knowledge of the game of football.

For seven seasons prior to his appointment as head coach of the Cajuns, Bustle served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Va. Tech.

With the Hokies, Bustle developed some of the finest quarterbacks the college football world has seen in recent years.

The list includes former 49ers quarterback Jim Druckenmiller and current Atlanta Falcons quarterback Michael Vick. Vick was the first overall selection in the 2001 NFL Draft.

In fact, Bustle coached the top three quarterbacks on Tech's career list for touchdown passes and guided players who have accounted for eight of the Hokies' Top 10 all-time single-season offensive totals and seven of Tech's Top 10 all-time single season passing totals.

The 1999 Hokies averaged a national-best 41.4 points per game, as Tech played in the national championship game.

In Bustle's first seven seasons as offensive coordinator, the Hokies fielded seven of the eight highest-scoring teams in school history.

The team posted a 67-17 record and won three Big East Conference championships. VT went to a bowl game every year he served as offensive coordinator, winning the 1993 Independence Bowl, 1995 Sugar Bowl, 1998 Music City Bowl and 2001 Gator Bowl.

Bustle spent all but one season at Va. Tech from 1987-2001, leaving the Hokies in 1994 for a one-year stint as the offensive coordinator and QB's coach at South Carolina. While at SC, Bustle helped the Gamecocks go from a 4-7 record in 1993 to a 7-5 record and a Carquest Bowl Championship.

From 1987-92, he was the quarterbacks and receivers coach at Tech before moving to offensive coordinator and QB's coach in '93.

His ties to Louisiana include a three-year stint at Louisiana-Monroe from 1984-86, where he started as the running backs coach for two seasons before becoming the offensive coordinator and QB's coach.

He has also had coaching stints with East Carolina as a wide receivers and secondary coach (1980-82) and the USFL's Arizona Wranglers as a running backs coach (1983). He broke into the full-time coaching ranks as the defensive coordinator at Gardner-Webb in 1979.

Bustle is a 1976 graduate of Clemson, where he received a bachelor's degree in parks and recreation administration. He was a four-year letterwinner as a wide receiver for the Tigers.

As a graduate assistant coach, Bustle earned 27 hours toward a master's degree in Special Education.

Bustle's wife, Lynn, of Charleston, S.C., received her Ph.D. in curriculum and instruction from Virginia Tech in December 1997. She currently is a tenured professor at UL in the Visual Arts Department in the College of the Arts. They have a son, Brad, who is an offensive lineman at UL.

With five straight wins to close the 2005 season, Bustle's Ragin' Cajuns won a share of the Sun Belt title and were a field goal away from a berth in the New Orleans Bowl.

BLAKE ANDERSON
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS
FIRST YEAR AT UL

Blake Anderson joins Rickey Bustle's staff after a brief hiatus from coaching the past two seasons. In his last post, Anderson was co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at Middle Tennessee from the 2002 through 2004 seasons.

While at MT, he helped direct an offensive unit that led the Sun Belt in scoring offense during the 2003 season and ranked 15th nationally in passing offense during the 2004 campaign. His 2003 team averaged 27.7 points per game, generating 42 total touchdowns. In 2004, his MT passing attack averaged 267.7 yards per game. Quarterback Clint Marks led the Sun Belt in passing yards per game (249.9), while wide receivers Kerry Wright and Chris Henry ranked second and third, respectively, in the league in receptions per game.

His most recognizable pupils at MT were Wright who became the school's first 1,000-yard receiver in 2004. Former MT receiver Tyrone Calico earned all-conference honors and was drafted in the second round (60th overall) of the 2003 NFL Draft.

Anderson spent three seasons at New Mexico before landing at MT. He served as the wide receivers coach in 2001 and running backs coach from 1999-2000. The UNM rushing attack was responsible for a major share of the Lobo offense in 2000. The Lobos averaged 148 yards per game on the ground, which accounted for 56 percent of the team's total offense.

Anderson worked at Trinity Valley Community College (1995-98) before joining the Division I-A ranks at New Mexico. In 1998, he was the offensive coordinator and the Cardinals went 7-3. Trinity Valley led the conference in rushing offense and was eighth nationally. The Cardinals were also second in their league in total offense under Anderson's guidance and led the league in scoring average. He helped lead the Cardinals to the 1997 NJCAA National Championship.

Other capacities in which Anderson served were quarterbacks and receivers coach, defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator.

Anderson was a two-year letterwinner at wide receiver for Sam Houston State from 1989-91, and was named Southland Conference All-Academic as a senior. He also played for two years as a quarterback and receiver at Baylor (1987-89) before transferring.

A native of Hubbard, Texas, Anderson graduated with his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Sam Houston State in 1992. He also attained his master's degree in sports administration from Eastern New Mexico in 1994.

Anderson's Middle Tennessee offense ranked 15th nationally in passing during the 2004 season.

HURLIE BROWN

CORNERBACKS
FIRST YEAR AT UL

Hurlie Brown joins Rickey Bustle's staff after having served as defensive backs coach at Florida International from the 2001 season through 2006 season.

Brown's wealth of experience at both the major college and professional levels got the attention of Bustle.

Brown brings seven years of professional playing experience including one year with the Washington Redskins and the San Francisco 49ers. He spent his college playing career under Jimmy Johnson and Dennis Erickson at the University of Miami (1988-91) and won two national championships with the Hurricanes.

Brown was signed as a free agent in 1992 by the Redskins and signed as a free agent with the 49ers the next season. He later went to play for the Sacramento Gold Miners, San Antonio Texans and the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League from 1993-97.

Following his CFL career he joined the coaching ranks working at Dillard High School in Fort Lauderdale in May 1998. In May 1999, he returned to his prep alma mater, Merritt Island High School, serving as special teams coordinator/defensive backs coach before joining FIU in 2001.

At FIU he planned, organized and executed all facets of the defensive backs position. He assisted in the foundation, organization and subsequent development of the Golden Panthers transition to a Division I football program.

Most recently, Brown teamed with current Cajuns defensive coordinator Kevin Fouquier to help revamp FIU's defense in 2006. FIU's fourth ranked pass defense, up from 52nd in 2005, led the Sun Belt Conference and was bested by only Virginia Tech, Wisconsin and Louisiana State. In addition, the Golden Panthers led the nation in tackles for loss.

Brown's disciples at FIU included Nick Turnbull, a two-time All-Independent performer; 2005 second team All-Sun Belt Conference pick and priority free-agent signing of the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL, Greg Moss; and Kevin Timothee, a free agent with the Tennessee Titans, New York Giants and NFL Europe's Amsterdam Admirals.

Brown made the transition to the sidelines very early in his career. He served as an undergraduate assistant to Erickson, coaching defensive backs at Miami in 1992. Brown coached the defensive secondary under Erickson and defensive coordinator Sonny Lubick.

Brown was a football and academic standout as a student at Merritt Island High School, where he graduated in May 1987 and later earned a scholarship to Miami.

KEVIN FOUQUIER

LINEBACKERS
FIRST YEAR AT UL

Kevin Fouquier comes to Louisiana after having served as defensive coordinator/defensive line coach at Florida International in 2006.

In his only season at FIU, Fouquier helped the Golden Panthers defense improve in six key statistical categories from the previous year. FIU led the Sun Belt in total defense and ranked 27th in the nation in 2006 – just one year after finishing 76th in the nation in total defense during the 2005 campaign. FIU's fourth ranked pass defense, up from 52nd in 2005, led the SBC and was bested by only Virginia Tech, Wisconsin and Louisiana State.

In addition, the Golden Panthers led the nation in tackles for loss. FIU also improved its rush defense, interceptions and pass efficiency defense under Fouquier.

Prior to his stint at FIU, Fouquier spent five seasons at Middle Tennessee, the last three as assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator. He coached the linebackers for three seasons and the defensive linemen for two seasons.

The Blue Raiders shared the SBC title during his first season, 2001, while their scoring defense led the SBC, and was 17th in the nation, during his final season in Murfreesboro, 2005.

No stranger to Louisiana, Fouquier, a Franklin native, is a 1989 Louisiana-Lafayette graduate. He was a student assistant coach throughout his undergraduate years, 1985-89, as the Cajuns went 29-26 during that span – including four straight winnings seasons under head coach Nelson Stokley.

Four seasons removed from a brief stretch as defensive coordinator at Teurlings High School in the spring of 1991, Fouquier would land at Louisiana Tech. He was the defensive line coach for five seasons from 1995-99, adding recruiting coordinator responsibilities in 1998.

Other coaching stops for Fouquier include Central Arkansas as the defensive coordinator in 2000, Sam Houston State coaching the defensive line from 1993-95 and graduate assistant positions at Texas A&M in 1991-93 and UTEP in 1990.

Fouquier is married to the former Christine Rodriquez of El Paso, Texas. They have four children; Kevin, Victoria, Analise and Carmen-Louise.

Fouquier has recruited and/or coached sixteen players that have advanced to play in the National Football League.

RON HUDSON

OFFENSIVE LINE
THIRD YEAR AT UL

Ron Hudson enters his third season as Louisiana's offensive line coach after producing five All-Sun Belt performers during his first two seasons.

Hudson tutored an offensive line in 2005 that helped set a school record 2,797 rushing yards and 34 rushing touchdowns.

In addition, UL allowed only nine sacks - the second fewest in the Sun Belt. Hudson came to UL after serving as the offensive line coach at Texas A&M-Kingsville.

While at TAMU-Kingsville, Hudson coached three all-conference players, including Roy Stroud, who was a Division II All-American. In addition, TAMU-Kingsville was ranked as one of the top five Division II programs in the nation.

Prior to his appointment with the Javelinas, Hudson served on the football coaching staff at UTEP. He was the tight ends coach for two seasons, beginning in 2001. Hudson was then promoted to the Miners defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator in 2003.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Hudson received bachelor's degrees in physical education and history from Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio in 1987. Hudson added a master's in physical education from Louisville in 1992.

He led the Fighting Muskies to a 29-10 record during his four years, the winningest stretch in school history. Hudson earned all-conference honors as a junior and senior and an academic all-conference accolade as a senior.

He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Louisville in 1991. Hudson has also enjoyed time at Illinois State, Urbana University, The Citadel, Lenoir Rhyne College, Kent State, Southeast Missouri and Bowling Green.

He and his wife Melissa are the proud parents of three children, daughter Mackenzie and sons Spencer and David.

 RUNNING BACKS/SPECIAL TEAMS
 SIXTH SEASON AT UL

Brian Jenkins enters his sixth season at UL, serving as running backs coach and special teams coordinator. During the last two seasons, the Cajuns have rushed for 5,061 yards and 54 touchdowns.

In 2005, Louisiana rushed for a school-record 2,797 yards and 34 touchdowns. The Cajuns followed with 2,264 yards and 20 scores in 2006.

In addition, Tyrell Fenroy became the first running back in school history to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season. Last season, Fenroy became the first player in school history to post back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

Jenkins joined UL from the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe. While in Germany, Jenkins' special teams set several league and team records, some that still stand today.

Prior to his stint in NFL-E, Jenkins was the running backs coach at Bowling Green.

Before joining the Falcons, Jenkins spent five seasons with Eastern Illinois. From 1995-98 he served as running backs coach and became the receivers coach in 1999. While at EIU, the Panthers offense was one of the top rushing offenses in the nation, with a 1,000-yard rusher each season. Jenkins was the first coach in school history to have three rushers rush for over 100 yards each in the same game.

In 1994, he was the receivers coach at Western Kentucky. While at WKU, Jenkins coached Joey Stockton, who is WKU's all-time leader in receptions and all-purpose yards.

Jenkins played college football as both a wide receiver and running back at Cincinnati and still holds the Bearcats record for kickoff return yards in a season and in a career. He graduated in 1993 with an associate's degree in Education and bachelor's degree in social work. After college, Jenkins spent six months running his own social work business.

He and his wife Octavia have a daughter, Briana, and a son, Brian Jr.

Jenkins has helped the Ragin' Cajuns ground game increase its production by 281 percent since 2002.

DARYL MASON

WIDE RECEIVERS
FIRST YEAR AT UL

Daryl Mason joins Rickey Bustle's staff after serving as wide receivers coach at Tulane from the 2004 through 2006 season. Mason has spent 10 of his 22 years of coaching in Louisiana including each year since 2000.

At Tulane, Mason's receiving corps managed to amass over 2,000 yards receiving each season and nearly hit 3,000 yards receiving in 2006 accumulating 2,958 yards.

In 2006, the Green Wave had 10 players with double-digit receptions including three who had at least 40 catches. In 2005, nine players had double-digit receptions and in 2004 the Green Wave receivers caught 28 touchdown passes.

Mason coached three All-Conference USA receivers during each season spent with the Green Wave. In 2006, standout Jeremy Williams was named honorable-mention Freshman All-American by The Sporting News - Williams led all Green Wave rookies in receptions, yardage and touchdowns. In 2005, Preston Brown finished the year as a third team All-Conference USA selection with 47 catches and 720 yards after entering the season without a career catch.

Mason also coached Roydell Williams who went on to become the Green Wave's all-time leader in touchdown catches and was a fourth-round draft choice of the Tennessee Titans in the 2005 NFL Draft.

Prior to joining the Tulane staff, Mason completed his third stint at Northwestern State where he was the offensive coordinator and receivers coach for two seasons (2002-2003), helping the Demons to the I-AA playoffs in 2002. His 2003 NSU offense broke the school record for points in a season.

He spent the 2001 season as receivers coach at Louisiana-Monroe.

Mason also worked as wide receivers coach at Northwestern State from 1990-93 and again in 2000. The Demons boasted an All-Southland Conference receiver every year from 1990-92.

Before returning to Louisiana in 2000, Mason spent four seasons at East Tennessee State University (1995-98). He coached the top three single season leaders in receiving yardage in ETSU history. His ETSU receivers set 12 school records and the Bucs' B.J. Adigun earned I-AA All-American honors in 1997 after posting 1,380 yards on 72 catches.

The Little Rock, Ark., native also coached receivers at Missouri State (1987-88) and Weber State (1989), tight ends at UNLV (1993), outside linebackers at Idaho State (1994) and was offensive coordinator at Cheyney (Pa.) University (1999).

Mason was a 1977 prep All-American at Little Rock's Parkview High School and was named Arkansas' high school Athlete of the Year in 1978. He was a three-year starter at tight end for coach Lou Holtz at Arkansas from 1978-81. The Razorbacks made four straight bowl appearances during his career, including the 1979 Fiesta and 1980 Sugar bowls. Mason caught at least one pass in each of his four bowl appearances during his career. He captained the team as a senior in 1981 and was named All-Southwest Conference.

Mason played in the United States Football League for four seasons. He started for the Birmingham Stallions from 1983-85 catching 132 passes for 1,300 yards. He was a member of the 1986 Arizona Outlaws before beginning his full-time coaching career in 1987 at Missouri State.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Arkansas in 1983 and began his coaching career in 1984 on Holtz' staff at Minnesota working as a graduate assistant/tight end coach.

SHAWN QUINN

DEFENSIVE LINE
SIXTH SEASON AT UL

Shawn Quinn enters his sixth season at Louisiana. He has coached the defensive line for the past four seasons after previously coaching the outside linebackers in 2002. Last season, the Cajuns registered the most sacks and allowed the fewest rushing yards in the Rickey Bustle era.

In 2005, Quinn helped UL post the most sacks in the Sun Belt play and the most yardage lost via sack.

Quinn has coached four All-Sun Belt defensive linemen - Tony Hills, Rodney Hardaway, Eugene Kwarteng and Antonio Floyd. The 2003 Cajuns led the SBC in sacks during conference play.

Since 2002, seven players recruited by Quinn have gone on to the NFL, including Cajuns Joe Bradley (Minnesota), C.C. Brown (Houston) and Antwain Spann (New England). The four others are Julian Battle (Kansas City), Demetin Veal (Atlanta), Gibril Wilson (N.Y. Giants) and Kevin Simon (Washington).

Before coming to Louisiana, Quinn served on the staff at Tennessee from 1999-02. While at UT, Quinn was a member of the 2001 SEC East Championship team and coached in the Fiesta, Cotton and Citrus Bowls. He finished his time with the Volunteers with a 45-17 Citrus Bowl victory over Michigan.

Prior to his stint in Tennessee, Quinn was the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach at Maryville High School in Maryville, Tenn., where his team went undefeated and won the Class 4A state championship. He previously served as linebackers coach at Armuchee High in Rome, Ga.

Quinn was a defensive lineman at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn., earning a history and political science degree in 1995. He was a four-year starter, a member of four conference championship teams and a 1994 All-South Atlantic Conference Defensive Lineman.

In 1998, he earned a master's degree from Lincoln Memorial University.

Quinn was born on March 23, 1972. He and his wife, Megan, have three daughters, Emily, Grace and Abigail.

The Cajuns set the school single-game record with nine sacks at Middle Tennessee in 2005.

TIM REBOWE

SAFETIES
FOURTH SEASON AT UL

Tim Rebowe enters his fourth season as safeties coach at Louisiana. The Cajuns pass defense had a stellar first year under Rebowe, finishing with a No. 11 national ranking in passing yards allowed. Both of Rebowe's starting safeties in 2004 advanced to the NFL.

Rebowe coached strong safety C.C. Brown (101 tackles), who was drafted by the Houston Texans in the 2004 NFL Draft, and free safety Antwain Spann, who signed as a free agent with the New York Giants. Spann played in NFL Europa and is now with the New England Patriots.

Last season, the Cajuns pass defense was 23rd nationally, allowing only 190 yards per game, despite opponents facing an uphill climb in eight games. The Cajuns trailed after three quarters just twice in 2005.

A native of Norco, La., Rebowe came to UL after three seasons as cornerbacks coach at Louisiana-Monroe.

Prior to his stint with the Warhawks, Rebowe spent six years at Nicholls State where he served as defensive backs coach (1995-2000), special teams' coordinator (1995-98), recruiting coordinator (1998-2000), and wide receivers coach (2000). In 1996, the Colonels pass efficiency defense ranked seventh nationally in I-AA.

Rebowe began his coaching career in 1987 at his alma mater, Destrehan High School, where he coached baseball for four seasons. He added football responsibilities in 1988, serving as defensive backs coach and special teams' coordinator from until 1992, when he became head coach from 1992-95.

His ties to the Cajuns began in 1994 when former Destrehan High star Damon Mason transferred to Louisiana from Jones County JC. Mason would go on to have one of the best careers by a defensive back in Cajuns history. Mason's No. 9 is one of only six numbers retired at UL Lafayette.

Rebowe earned his bachelor of science in physical education from Louisiana State University in 1987. He is married to the former Kim Robichaux and they have a daughter, Samantha, and a son, Tyler.

TACKLES/TIGHT ENDS
SEVENTH SEASON AT UL

Former Cajuns standout Troy Wingerter returns to the football coaching staff for his 10th season overall with Louisiana-Lafayette and his sixth as the Cajuns' tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator.

Wingerter coached the defensive ends in 2001 under then-head coach Jerry Baldwin. He was the tight ends coach as a graduate assistant from 1997-99 under both Nelson Stokley and Baldwin.

Wingerter coached Josh Joerg during his All-Sun Belt season in 2002.

After earning his undergraduate degree in 1993, Wingerter embarked on a four-year career in corporate business working in Lafayette, New Orleans, Colorado and Montana.

A native of New Orleans, Wingerter was a first-team All-Louisiana selection and an All-South Independent pick as a senior in 1991. He helped guide the Cajuns to three straight winning seasons during his first three years from 1987-89 and was a permanent team captain as a senior.

In addition, he was selected as a member of the All-Time Louisiana-Lafayette football team as compiled by the Lafayette Daily Advertiser.

Upon his return to UL, Wingerter earned a master's degree in education.

Wingerter was born July 19, 1969. He and his wife, Cydra, have two sons, Holden and Aiden.
