Louisiana head coach Rickey Bustle has guided the Cajuns for six seasons and enters his seventh year in Cajun Country in 2008.

Coach Bustle won 23 games in his first five seasons with the Cajuns from 2002-06, including 11 of the last 17 games. UL won only nine games in the five seasons prior to Bustle's arrival from 1997-2001.

Bustle saw his winning percentage increase each of the first four seasons since taking the job in 2002, but regressed to .500 in 2006. His 6-6 record in 2006 was only deemed a regression because of the high standards and raised levels of expectations by the Cajuns and their fans. In fact, Bustle's 12 wins from 2005-06 were the most in a two-year period since 1994-95.

Louisiana went 3-3 at home in 2006, marking the fifth straight season – all under Bustle – that the Cajuns had been .500 or better at home. Bustle boasts a 16-17 (.485) career record at Cajun Field. By comparison, the Cajuns were 6-19 (.240) at home from 1997-01.

In addition to raised expectations, Bustle has brought professionalism and discipline to the program. Since 2002, the Cajuns 440 penalties are the fewest in the Sun Belt Conference and UL boasts the fewest penalties per game over that span.

The Cajuns went 6-5 (.546) in 2005 to mark UL's first winning record since 1995.

Along with a winning season in 2005 came a share of the Sun Belt Conference championship. After starting 1-5 (0-2), Louisiana roared back into the SBC race with a come-from-behind road win at Middle Tennessee. From there came a homecoming win over Troy in overtime and a second comeback road win, this time at North Texas. A Senior Day victory over Florida International set-up the season finale at ULM.

With five straight wins to close the 2005 season, Bustle's Ragin' Cajuns won a share of the Sun Belt title and were a field goal away from a berth in the New Orleans Bowl.

The Cajuns rocked the Indians 54-21, claiming the first school title since the 1994 Big West crown.

Bustle was rewarded with a two-year contract extension following the 2005 campaign, which lengthens his contract through 2010.

Attendance has also been on the rise, as the Cajuns began 2003 with an attendance of 24,211 vs. Louisiana Tech, one of the twenty best in the history of Cajun Field, and largest crowd in seven seasons. Then, in 2004, UL saw a crowd of 25,083 for the Sun Belt opener vs. Middle Tennessee and a five-game total of 107,006, the most since 1996 and the eighth best average (21,401) in Cajun Field history. In 2005, UL played before a homecoming crowd of 21,204 en route to a solid two-season average of 19,496 – the best two year average at Cajun Field since 1992-93. In 2006, the Cajuns homecoming crowd increased to 22,093, marking the third straight season with 20,000+ fans for homecoming. Last season, Cajun Field witnessed its' third biggest crowd ever, as 33,828 jammed the stadium for the Cajuns vs. McNeese State.

During his tenure at UL, 15 of Bustle's players have either been drafted or signed NFL contracts, including Charles Tillman and Ike Taylor. Both were selected in the 2003 NFL Draft and both have played in the Super Bowl. Taylor signed a five-year, $22.5 million contract extension in Sept. 2006 that included a $6.4 million signing bonus. In addition, nine players have been invited to play in post-season all-star bowl games, with a handful of those players earning multiple invitations.

The Summerville, S.C., native, became the 24th head coach in Louisiana's Ragin' Cajuns football history on * - National Championship Game

December 13, 2001.

Bustle earned his first collegiate victory as a head coach on Sept. 21, 2002 with a 34-0 victory over UAB. Louisiana held the Blazers to just eight first downs and only 94 yards passing.

In 2002, Bustle helped the Cajuns to their first winning record at Cajun Field in six seasons with impressive back-to-back victories over Sun Belt foes Idaho and Arkansas State.

In 2003, UL won four of their last five games en route to a second place finish in the Sun Belt.

More importantly, Bustle's popularity across Acadiana had a significant impact in the stands. As a result, the Cajuns' season ticket base rose by substantial amounts.

For seven seasons prior to his appointment as head coach of the Cajuns, Bustle served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Va. Tech. With the Hokies, Bustle developed some of the finest quarterbacks the college football world has seen in recent years.

The list includes former 49ers quarterback Jim Druckenmiller and Atlanta Falcons quarterback Michael Vick. Vick was the first overall selection in the 2001 NFL Draft.

In fact, Bustle coached the top three quarterbacks on Tech's career list for touchdown passes and guided players who have accounted for eight of the Hokies' Top 10 all-time single-season offensive totals and seven of Tech's Top 10 all-time single season passing totals.

The 1999 Hokies averaged a national-best 41.4 points per game, as Tech played in the national championship game.

In Bustle's first seven seasons as offensive coordinator, the Hokies fielded seven of the eight highest-scoring teams in school history.

The team posted a 67-17 record and won three Big East Conference championships. VT went to a bowl game every year he served as offensive coordinator, winning the 1993 Independence Bowl, 1995 Sugar Bowl, 1998 Music City Bowl and 2001 Gator Bowl.

Bustle spent all but one season at Va. Tech from 1987-2001, leaving the Hokies in 1994 for a one-year stint as the offensive coordinator and QB's coach at South Carolina. While at SC, Bustle helped the Gamecocks go from a 4-7 record in 1993 to a 7-5 record and a Carquest Bowl Championship.

From 1987-92, he was the quarterbacks and receivers coach at Tech before moving to offensive coordinator and QB's coach in '93.

His ties to Louisiana include a three-year stint at ULM from 1984-86, where he started as the running backs coach for two seasons before becoming the offensive coordinator and QB's coach.

He has also had coaching stints with East Carolina as a wide receivers and secondary coach (1980-82) and the USFL's Arizona Wranglers as a running backs coach (1983). He broke into the full-time coaching ranks as the defensive coordinator at Gardner-Webb in 1979.

Bustle is a 1976 graduate of Clemson, where he received a bachelor's degree in parks and recreation administration. He was a four-year letterwinner as a wide receiver for the Tigers.

As a graduate assistant coach, Bustle earned 27 hours toward a master's degree in Special Education.

Bustle's wife, Lynn, of Charleston, S.C., received her PhD. in curriculum and instruction from Virginia Tech in December 1997. She currently is a tenured professor at UL in the Visual Arts Department in the College of the Arts. They have a son, Brad, who is an offensive lineman at UL.

Bustle's Discipline

Since 2002, Rickey Bustle's squads have seen the fewest penalty flags in the Sun Belt Conference. Not only do the Cajuns lead the league in the fewest total penalties, UL also leads with a league-low 6.29 penalties per game. In fact, only one other Sun Belt school has averaged fewer than seven penalties per game. In 2004, Louisiana was flagged for only 61 penalties - the lowest total for the Cajuns since 1990.

GERALD BROUSSARD

defensive LINE

Alma Mater: Louisiana, 1984

Joined UL Staff: 2008

Born: October 4, 1961

Hometown: Lafayette, La.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Gerald Broussard has reclaimed a coaching position at his alma mater where he will coach the defensive line. Broussard, who has been involved with coaching for the last 24 years, had been away from the Cajuns football program for nearly a decade.

From 1986-1998 he worked at Louisiana under then-head coach Nelson Stokley. During that tenure, Broussard helped guide the Cajuns to seven winning seasons and a pair of Big West Conference Championships. He served as the offensive line coach from 1986-91 before moving to the tackles and tight ends from 1992-95. Broussard then coached a wide receivers unit from 1996-98 that was led by standout Brandon Stokley. In 1996, Broussard's receiving corps set the school record for receiving yards with 3,076.

Before returning to the Cajuns, the Lafayette native spent the last three seasons as the offensive coordinator at Stephen F. Austin. In 2005-06 he coached the offensive line and tight ends, and in 2007 the H-backs and fullbacks. During his first season with the 'Jacks, Broussard's offense finished 13th in the nation in passing and 21st in the nation in total offense. The team surrendered only 16 sacks in 2005, despite throwing the ball an average of 43 times per game and six 'Jacks received All-Southland Conference recognition.

Broussard spent the prior four seasons with McNeese State, where he served as offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator. The Cowboys won or shared three straight conference titles with Broussard on the staff and were the top scoring team in the SLC in 2002, averaging 31.9 points per game.

Stops at Tennessee-Martin as the offensive line and strength coach in 2000 and Scottsdale CC as the offensive coordinator, recruiting coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 1999 preceded his time in Lake Charles.

Broussard's coaching career started in 1984 as a graduate assistant/tight ends coach for the Cajuns under Sam Robertson. The following season saw Broussard become the offensive line coach at West Alabama for one season before returning to Lafayette.

He was a three-year letterwinner at offensive line for the Cajuns from 1979-83. Broussard was the recipient of the J.C. "Dutch" Reinhardt Award in 1983 for comeback athlete, the same year in which he was named team captain. In 1984, he graduated the University, earning a degree in Business Management. In 1995, Broussard was named to the Cajuns first team All 25-Year Team by the Lafayette Daily Advertiser.

Broussard was a standout football and baseball player at Lafayette High School where he was inducted into the Lions Hall of Fame.

He and his wife, Julie, are the parents of a son, John Joseph.

HURLIE BROWN

secondary

Alma Mater: Miami (Fla.), 1991

Joined UL Staff: 2007

Born: June 21, 1969

Hometown: Merritt Island, Fla.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Hurlie Brown will coach the entire Cajuns secondary in 2008 after having worked exclusively with the cornerbacks in 2007. He joined Rickey Bustle's staff after serving as defensive backs coach at Florida International from 2001 through the 2006 season.

Last season, Brown tutored a mixture of inexperienced and veteran corners, including Kyle Ward, who signed a free agent contract with the Green Bay Packers following the season.

Brown's wealth of experience at both the major college and professional levels got the attention of Bustle.

Brown has seven years of professional playing experience including one year with the Washington Redskins and one year with the San Francisco 49ers. He spent his college playing career under Jimmy Johnson and Dennis Erickson at the University of Miami (1988-91) and won two national championships with the Hurricanes.

Brown was signed as a free agent in 1992 by the Redskins and signed as a free agent with the 49ers the next season. He later went to play for the Sacramento Gold Miners, San Antonio Texans and the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League from 1993-97.

Following his CFL career, he joined the coaching ranks working at Dillard High School in Fort Lauderdale in May 1998. In May 1999, he returned to his prep alma mater, Merritt Island High School, serving as special teams coordinator/defensive backs coach before joining FIU in 2001.

At FIU he planned, organized and executed all facets of the defensive backs position. He assisted in the foundation, organization and subsequent development of the Golden Panthers transition to a Division I football program.

Most recently, Brown teamed with current Cajuns defensive coordinator Kevin Fouquier to help revamp FIU's defense in 2006. FIU's fourth ranked pass defense, up from 52nd in 2005, led the Sun Belt Conference and was bested by only Virginia Tech, Wisconsin and Louisiana State. In addition, the Golden Panthers led the nation in tackles for loss.

Brown's disciples at FIU included Nick Turnbull, a two-time All-Independent performer; 2005 second team All-Sun Belt Conference pick and priority free-agent signing of the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL, Greg Moss; and Kevin Timothee, a free agent with the Tennessee Titans, New York Giants and NFL Europe's Amsterdam Admirals.

Brown made the transition to the sidelines very early in his career. He served as an undergraduate assistant to Erickson, coaching defensive backs at Miami in 1992. Brown coached the defensive secondary under Erickson and defensive coordinator Sonny Lubick.

Brown was a football and academic standout as a student at Merritt Island High School, where he graduated in May 1987 and later earned a scholarship to Miami.

KEVIN FOUQUIER

defensive coordinator

Alma Mater: Louisiana, 1989

Joined UL Staff: 2007

Born: June 24, 1965

Hometown: Franklin, La.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Kevin Fouquier came home to Louisiana in 2007 to serve in the role of Cajuns defensive coordinator. Last season, four players on Fouquier's defense earned All-Sun Belt honors, including true freshman Grant Fleming. Fleming became the first Cajuns freshman on defense to ever earn a spot on an all-conference team. In addition, defensive end Rodney Hardaway (St. Louis Rams) and cornerback Kyle Ward (Green Bay Packers) signed NFL free agent contracts.

Fouquier came to UL after having served as defensive coordinator/defensive line coach at Florida International in 2006. In his only season at FIU, Fouquier helped the Golden Panthers defense improve in six key statistical categories from the previous year. FIU led the Sun Belt in total defense and ranked 27th in the nation in 2006 – just one year after finishing 76th in the nation in total defense during the 2005 campaign. FIU's fourth ranked pass defense, up from 52nd in 2005, led the SBC and was bested by only Virginia Tech, Wisconsin and Louisiana State.

In addition, the Golden Panthers led the nation in tackles for loss. FIU also improved its rush defense, interceptions and pass efficiency defense under Fouquier.

Prior to his stint at FIU, Fouquier spent five seasons at Middle Tennessee, the last three as assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator. He coached the linebackers for three seasons and the defensive linemen for two seasons.

The Blue Raiders shared the SBC title during his first season, 2001, while their scoring defense led the SBC, and was 17th in the nation, during his final season in Murfreesboro, 2005.

No stranger to Louisiana, Fouquier, a Franklin native, is a 1989 Louisiana-Lafayette graduate. He was a student assistant coach throughout his undergraduate years, 1985-89, as the Cajuns went 29-26 during that span – including four straight winnings seasons under head coach Nelson Stokley.

Four seasons removed from a brief stretch as defensive coordinator at Teurlings High School in the spring of 1991, Fouquier would land at Louisiana Tech. He was the defensive line coach for five seasons from 1995-99, adding recruiting coordinator responsibilities in 1998.

Other coaching stops for Fouquier include Central Arkansas as the defensive coordinator in 2000, Sam Houston State coaching the defensive line from 1993-95 and graduate assistant positions at Texas A&M in 1991-93 and UTEP in 1990.

Fouquier is married to the former Christine Rodriguez of El Paso, Texas. They have four children; Kevin, Victoria, Analise and Carmen-Louise.

RON HUDSON

assistant head coach/off. coordinator/off. Line

Alma Mater: Muskingum College, 1987

Joined UL Staff: 2005

Born: November 5, 1964

Hometown: Columbus, Ohio

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Ron Hudson holds many responsibilities, serving as assistant head coach, offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Since his appointment as offensive line coach in 2005, the Cajuns have produced one of the most dominating running games in the nation.

The Cajuns running game ranked 7th in 2005, 11th in 2006 and 7th in 2007. Hudson tutored an offensive line in 2005 that helped set a school record with 2,797 rushing yards and 34 rushing touchdowns. In addition, UL allowed only nine sacks - the fourth best total in the country.

That rushing record didn't stand long, as Hudson helped the 2007 Cajuns run for 3,019, including 1,000-yard rushing performances from quarterback Michael Desormeaux and running back Tyrell Fenroy. Louisiana became the first team in Sun Belt history to ever rush for over 3,000 yards. The offensive line ranked 19th nationally in fewest sacks allowed.

In three seasons, Hudson has seen seven All-Sun Belt performers along the offensive line, including three-time All-SBC tackle Jesse Newman. Newman was the third overall selection in the 2008 Canadian Football League Draft.

Fenroy has been the biggest piece to the Cajuns ground game, amassing 3,271 rushing yards via three 1,000-yard seasons. He is just the 16th player in NCAA history to have three 1,000-yard seasons as a junior and can become just the 7th player in NCAA history to post four 1,000-yard seasons.

Hudson came to UL after serving as the offensive line coach at Texas A&M-Kingsville.

While at TAMU-Kingsville, Hudson coached three all-conference players, including Roy Stroud, who was a Division II All-American. In addition, TAMU-Kingsville was ranked as one of the top five Division II programs in the nation.

Prior to his appointment with the Javelinas, Hudson served on the football coaching staff at UTEP. He was the tight ends coach for two seasons, beginning in 2001. Hudson was then promoted to the Miners defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator in 2003.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Hudson received bachelor's degrees in physical education and history from Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio in 1987. Hudson added a master's in physical education from Louisville in 1992.

He led the Fighting Muskies to a 29-10 record during his four years, the winningest stretch in school history. Hudson earned all-conference honors as a junior and senior and an academic all-conference accolade as a senior.

He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Louisville in 1991. Hudson has also enjoyed time at Illinois State, Urbana University, The Citadel, Lenoir Rhyne College, Kent State, Southeast Missouri and Bowling Green.

He and his wife Melissa are the proud parents of three children, daughter Mackenzie and sons Spencer and David.

 special teams coordinator/running backs
 Alma Mater: Cincinnati, 1993
 Joined UL Staff: 2002
 Born: March 4, 1971
 Hometown: Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Brian Jenkins has served as running backs coach and special team's coordinator since the arrival of Coach Bustle in 2002. During the last three seasons, the Cajuns have rushed for 8,080 yards and 77 touchdowns.

In 2005, Louisiana rushed for a school-record 2,797 yards and 34 touchdowns. The Cajuns followed with 2,264 yards and 20 scores in 2006. Last season, the Cajuns broke the school record again, running for 3,019 yards to become the first team in Sun Belt history to ever rush for over 3,000 yards.

Three-time All-Sun Belt running back Tyrell Fenroy has been the biggest piece to the Cajuns ground game, amassing 3,271 rushing yards via three 1,000-yard seasons. He is just the 16th player in NCAA history to have three 1,000-yard seasons as a junior and can become just the 7th player in NCAA history to post four 1,000-yard seasons.

In 2005, Fenroy became the first running back in school history to ever rush for over 1,000 yards in a season – doing so as a true freshman. A more impressive statistic is that the Cajuns running backs just don't fumble the ball – losing only one fumble the entire 2007 season. Fenroy enters his senior season in 2008 with just four career fumbles lost in 618 career touches (582 rush/36 rec).

As the special team's coordinator, Jenkins has helped the Cajuns in nearly all facets. In 2007, the Cajuns kickoff coverage defense ranked 20th in the nation, while the punt return defense had the identical ranking in 2004. In 2005, the Cajuns punt return unit ranked 27th nationally.

Jenkins joined UL from the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe. While in Germany, Jenkins' special teams set several league and team records, some that still stand.

Prior to his stint in NFL-E, Jenkins was the running backs coach at Bowling Green.

Before joining the Falcons, Jenkins spent five seasons with Eastern Illinois. From 1995-98 he served as running backs coach and became the receivers coach in 1999. While at EIU, the Panthers offense was one of the top rushing offenses in the nation, with a 1,000-yard rusher each season. Jenkins was the first coach in school history to have three rushers rush for over 100 yards each in the same game.

In 1994, he was the receivers coach at Western Kentucky. While at WKU, Jenkins coached Joey Stockton, who is WKU's all-time leader in receptions and all-purpose yards.

Jenkins played college football as both a wide receiver and running back at Cincinnati and still holds the Bearcats record for kickoff return yards in a season and in a career. He graduated in 1993 with an associate's degree in Education and bachelor's degree in social work. After college, Jenkins spent six months running his own social work business.

He and his wife Octavia have a daughter, Briana, and a son, Brian Jr.

Alma Mater: Arkansas, 1983

Joined UL Staff: 2007

Born: October 27, 1960

Hometown: Little Rock, Ark.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Daryl Mason is an experienced coach who has spent over a decade coaching in the state of Louisiana, including each year since 2000. He joined Rickey Bustle's staff after serving as wide receivers coach at Tulane from the 2004 through 2006 season.

Last season, 16 different Cajuns made at least one reception, which ranked in the top five in the nation in terms of spreading the ball around.

At Tulane, Mason's receiving corps managed to amass over 2,000 yards receiving each season and nearly hit 3,000 yards receiving in 2006 accumulating 2,958 yards.

In 2006, the Green Wave had 10 players with double-digit receptions including three who had at least 40 catches. In 2005, nine players had double-digit receptions and in 2004 the Green Wave receivers caught 28 touchdown passes.

Mason coached three All-Conference USA receivers during each season spent with the Green Wave. In 2006, standout Jeremy Williams was named honorable-mention Freshman All-American by The Sporting News - Williams led all Green Wave rookies in receptions, yardage and touchdowns. In 2005, Preston Brown finished the year as a third team All-Conference USA selection with 47 catches and 720 yards after entering the season without a career catch.

Mason also coached Roydell Williams who went on to become the Green Wave's all-time leader in touchdown catches and was a fourth-round draft choice of the Tennessee Titans in the 2005 NFL Draft.

Prior to joining the Tulane staff, Mason completed his third stint at Northwestern State where he was the offensive coordinator and receivers coach for two seasons (2002-2003), helping the Demons to the I-AA playoffs in 2002. His 2003 NSU offense broke the school record for points in a season.

He played the 2001 season as receivers coach at Louisiana-Monroe.

Mason also worked as wide receivers coach at Northwestern State from 1990-93 and again in 2000. The Demons boasted an All-Southland Conference receiver every year from 1990-92.

Before returning to Louisiana in 2000, Mason spent four seasons at East Tennessee State University (1995-98). He coached the top three single season leaders in receiving yardage in ETSU history. His ETSU receivers set 12 school records and the Bucs' B.J. Adigun earned I-AA All-American honors in 1997 after posting 1,380 yards on 72 catches.

The Little Rock, Ark., native also coached receivers at Missouri State (1987-88) and Weber State (1989), tight ends at UNLV (1993), outside linebackers at Idaho State (1994) and was offensive coordinator at Cheyney (Pa.) University (1999).

Mason was a 1977 prep All-American at Little Rock's Parkview High School and was named Arkansas' high school Athlete of the Year in 1978. He was a three-year starter at tight end for then-head coach Lou Holtz at Arkansas from 1978-81. The Razorbacks made four straight bowl appearances during his career, including the 1979 Fiesta and 1980 Sugar bowls. Mason caught at least one pass in each of his four bowl appearances during his career. He captained the team as a senior in 1981 and was named All-Southwest Conference.

Mason played in the United States Football League for four seasons. He started for the Birmingham Stallions from 1983-85 catching 132 passes for 1,300 yards. He was a member of the 1986 Arizona Outlaws before beginning his full-time coaching career in 1987 at Missouri State.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Arkansas in 1983 and began his coaching career in 1984 on Holtz' staff at Minnesota working as a graduate assistant/tight end coach.

JORGE MUNOZ

passing game coordinator/quarterbacks

Alma Mater: Bethany College, 1998
Joined UL Staff: 2008
Born: June 9, 1974
Hometown: San Diego, Calif.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Jorge Munoz was added to the Cajuns staff in 2008 as the Quarterbacks Coach and Passing Game Coordinator. One of the main responsibilities Munoz will undertake includes play calling.

Prior to his hiring at UL, Munoz was on the staff at Eastern Illinois for three seasons. He was promoted to Offensive Coordinator at EIU in March of 2007 after being named co-Offensive Coordinator during the summer of 2006. Under Munoz's direction, the Panthers proceeded to run a more diverse offense in 2006 with four players earning first team All-Ohio Valley Conference honors on offense including OVC co-Offensive Player of the Year Vincent Webb and third team All-American Micah Rucker.

The Panthers ranked 18th in the nation in run offense and either ranked first or second in the OVC in rushing offense, total offense and passing efficiency. Under Munoz's balanced attack, EIU nearly had a 1,000 yard rusher and a 1,000 yard receiver in the same season, as Webb finished with over 1,000 yards rushing for the third straight season and Rucker had 966 yards receiving to go along with 13 touchdowns.

EIU continued to run a diverse offense in 2007 as the Panthers had a 1,000 yard rusher for the fourth straight season with five Panthers earning first team All-OVC honors and three players earning honorable mention All-America honors. In 2007, EIU ranked 33rd in the nation in scoring and 36th in the country in rushing yards. EIU ranked sixth for the least amount of sacks allowed, giving them back-to-back Top 10 seasons in that category.

Munoz joined the EIU staff in 2005, coaching the Panthers wide receivers. He was promoted to quarterbacks coach following the 2005 season.

EIU advanced to the first round of the NCAA FCS playoffs all three seasons and was ranked in the Top 20 in the I-AA polls all three years. Munoz served as the Panthers recruiting contact for north and central Florida, western Illinois and the St. Louis area.

Prior to coming to Eastern Illinois, Munoz spent two seasons as the wide receivers coach at Charleston Southern (2003-04). During the 2004 season, Charleston Southern wide receivers ranked first, second and fourth in the Big South Conference.

The Buccaneers passing offense ranked first in the Big South and 17th in the NCAA.

After coaching stops at Southeast Missouri (1999-2000) and Bethany (KS) College (1998), Munoz earned his first offensive coordinator position at Anderson College in Indiana. His 2002 team set six offensive school records, ranking fifth in NCAA Division III for passing offense at 323 yards per game. That same team averaged 33 points and 451 yards of offense per contest.

His 2001 team was just as good, winning the Heartland Collegiate Conference championship with the nation's sixth best passing offense. That team set 22 school records, scoring 36 points per game and averaging 466 yards per game.

A 1998 graduate of Bethany College, Munoz was a two-time All-American quarterback. He went on to play one year in the Arena Football League with the Albany (NY) Firebirds. He was also a multi-sport standout at San Diego Hilltop High School.

He and his wife Erin, have two children - Ava and Alex.

Joined UL Staff: 2004
Born: February 25, 1963
Hometown: Norco, La.

LOUISIANA RAGIN' CAJUNS

Tim Rebowe has strong ties to the state of Louisiana, having coached his entire career in the Pelican State. Rebowe coached the Ragin' Cajuns safeties from 2004-07 and will tutor the linebackers beginning in 2008.

The Cajuns pass defense had a stellar first year under Rebowe, finishing with a No. 11 national ranking in passing yards allowed. Both of Rebowe's starting safeties in 2004 advanced to the NFL.

Rebowe coached strong safety C.C. Brown (101 tackles), who was drafted by the Houston Texans in the 2004 NFL Draft, and free safety Antwain Spann, who signed as a free agent with the New York Giants. Spann played in NFL Europa and is now with the New England Patriots.

In 2005, the Cajuns pass defense was 23rd nationally, allowing only 190 yards per game despite opponents facing an uphill climb in eight games. The Cajuns trailed after three quarters just twice in 2005.

A native of Norco, La., Rebowe came to UL after three seasons as cornerbacks coach at ULM.

Prior to his stint with the Warhawks, Rebowe spent six years at Nicholls State where he served as defensive backs coach (1995-2000), special teams' coordinator (1995-98), recruiting coordinator (1998-2000), and wide receivers coach (2000). In 1996, the Colonels pass efficiency defense ranked seventh nationally in I-AA.

Rebowe began his coaching career in 1987 at his alma mater, Destrehan High School, where he coached baseball for four seasons. He added football responsibilities in 1988, serving as defensive backs coach and special teams' coordinator until 1992, when he became head coach from 1992-95.

His ties to the Cajuns began in 1994 when former Destrehan High star Damon Mason transferred to Louisiana from Jones County JC. Mason would go on to have one of the best careers by a defensive back in Cajuns history. Mason's No. 9 is one of only six numbers retired at UL.

Rebowe earned his bachelor of science in physical education from Louisiana State University in 1987. He is married to the former Kim Robichaux and they have a daughter, Samantha, and a son, Tyler.
